Hotham 2005

by Ros Daw

Close to 100 ski club members met for the 2005 domestic ski trip at Mt Hotham in late August for another wild week. They came from far and near – from most of the Aussie states plus Hong Kong, Denmark, Norway and the UK.

Close to 100 ski club members met for the 2005 domestic ski trip at Mt Hotham in late August for another wild week. They came from far and near – from most of the Aussie states plus Hong Kong, Denmark, Norway and the UK.

Early Wednesday morning the rain ceased, the winds dropped considerably and the snow started to fall giving us some decent snow on which to practice our craft. The visibility was lousy, but the snow was excellent and most took full advantage of the day.

At the Welcome Dinner on Sunday night, the refrain 'Hi, howya going? Haven't seen you for a while.' rang around the bar as friendships were renewed. It also provided the opportunity for new trippers to get a sense of the fun that was to be had over the next week.

Sadly, the ski conditions weren't that great – a bit like a slurpy, really, but we went out there to do it cos that's one of the main reasons why we were there. Tuesday brought horizontal rain and gale force winds which was enough to keep all but the die-hard desperates inside.

And what else do ski club people do when they can't get onto the hill? Well, drink and socialise, of course! So we did both.

Ross Downes presents the Tony Bird Cup

With the not-too-special conditions we had, the races, normally run over 2 days, were all run on Thursday. This meant that the dual slalom, the GS and the inaugural Cathay Cup were all fitted in to Thursday afternoon. And with the numbers attending, there were A, B and C classes for skiers. Peter Dooley, our race co-coordinator, together with the race department from the mountain, managed to fit all the races in to the short time available. It was quite an achievement and appreciated by all who took part.

As well as a ski week, this event is also a big social gathering and some incredible fun was had. The first big night was the beach party, a feature of most ski weeks, attended by Miss Universe, the Sheik (reckons he came from the biggest beach in the world) and many in beach gear. Subsequent to the initial get-together, an auction was held which raised $1411 for the Disabled Skiers' Association. The items auctioned were kindly donated by a number of sponsors.

The event on Tuesday night was the requisite pub crawl. This year, for a bit of mental exercise, there was also a trivia aspect built in. As the group moved to each new location, the teams were given a set of questions to answer. It was a fun process and ensured that we all still had some active brain cells. The night was well supported despite the miserable weather and the group ended up at The General to dance the night away.

of the group turned up in some sort of Mexican gear which added greatly to the atmosphere of the night.

Our final event for the whole group was the presentation dinner held on Thursday night. Food was good, company was great and medals were presented to the winners of the races. This year it was a formal affair and some who normally slouch around in very informal gear, scrubbed up quite well in their black ties for the guys or the essential little black number or its equivalent for the girls. It was the last chance for a large part of the group to have a last drink (or three) with old friends or new before departing for home the next

Our main fun social event was the South of the Border, or Mexican night, and the costumes, in some cases, were hysterical.

The Three Amigos were there, as was Zorro, a Mexican drug lord and his tart, some Mexican airlines hosties, a walking talking taco, a 2-legged Corona bottle, some banditos, plenty of Mexicans (Gucci – Mexicans don't wear cargo shorts under their ponchos!) and lots of sultry señoritas. Most day. The remainder stayed on and skied, drank and socialised for another couple of days and left for home on the Sunday.

One of the unofficial highlights of the week occurred on the top of the mountain, when Paul Moore, on bended knee (yes, really!) asked his lovely lady, Debbie, to be his wife. The proposal and placing the diamond ring on the appropriate finger of the left hand was followed by a champagne toast which was also organized by Paul. Talk about romantic! Seriously though, they are both delightful people and we wish Debbie and Paul every happiness in their future together.

We all had an amazing week and we need to pass on our appreciation to the management and staff of the Arlberg, who made our stay at Hotham quite memorable and did their utmost to assist us in whatever we needed them to do. Also, thanks need to go to our sponsors who provided items we used in the auction and for prizes for our members. Amongst these are the Mt Hotham Resort management, Scarlet Design, Top Heavy Designs, White Day Spa at Mt Hotham and Ski Exclusive. Our sponsors are a vital part of our ski weeks and their support is greatly appreciated.

The initial booking was made with the Arlberg for 70 people, but the total number ended up at 98. The constant extension of the numbers that were able to be accepted was due to the work done by Simon in consultation with the Arlberg management. Had it not been for Simon's dedication to the success of the week and his willingness to do what he could for our members, many of the later applicants would have been unable to join for this great week.

Thanks to all of you who attended and joined in with such enthusiasm – we'd love you to join us at our international and domestic trips in 2006. Further information on these trips will be advertised when available. Hope to see you again soon. Ros
